ANGLO-GERMAN TRADE

Debt Transfer Agreement

London, Aug. 10.

Following an exchange of letters appended to the recent Anglo-German transfer agreement, negotiations have been concluded in Berlin for an exchange agreement between the two countries. This agreement was signed in Berlin to-day and comes into force on August 20.

The agreement is designed to promote current trade transactions between the two countries, and it relates to debts falling due on or after August 20 next. The procedure to be followed provides that German firms holding a general exchange permit under the agreement, which is to-night published as a White Paper, and United Kingdom firms holding a general exchange permit under the German exchange regulations, may insofar as the sums in foreign exchange allotted are insufficient to pay for imports, make payment in Reichsmarks into a special account with the Reichsbank in respect of certain goods, and subject to the general limit laid down in the agreement.

Special Bank Account

The Treasury has requested the Bank of England to open a special account with the Reichsbank for the purpose of the agreement.

Reichsbanks will be sold for the account of the creditor concerned, in chronological order of receipt, into the special account. The Bank of England will sell such Reichsmarks at their discretion, subject to specified provisions, and will credit the beneficiaries with the sterling proceeds, less a charge of one-eighth per cent. The agreement has been drawn up on the same lines as a number of other agreements concluded between Germany and other countries.

It has been made clear, as a result of discussions on the matter in Berlin, that any debt in respect of which payments are made through the special account constituted under such agreement, is discharged only to the extent of the actual proceeds of the Reichsmarks paid in by the debtor.

Article 3 of the agreement provides that the special account may be utilized in respect of goods produced or manufactured in the United Kingdom, or goods which have been processed in the United Kingdom.

Limited utilisation of the special account is provided in respect of, firstly, goods other than United Kingdom goods described in Article 3, if it is proved that the German buyer of those goods had purchased like goods before January 1, 1933, through a firm established in the United Kingdom, in appreciable quantities and regularly; and, secondly, goods produced or manufactured in any British Colony or overseas territory, any territory under British protection, or any mandated territory in respect of which a mandate is exercised by the Government of the United Kingdom.

Further Negotiations

It will be observed that the above Anglo-German exchange agreement relates only to debts falling due after August 20. It has not been possible to include provisions for the settlement of existing debts owing to British exporters to Germany, which on account of cotton yarn exports from Lancashire alone are believed to amount to about half a million pounds.

This aspect of the problem still awaits further negotiation. If, however, the new agreement results in the resumption of trade that is hoped for, the settlement of the outstanding debts will obviously be facilitated.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY

Schuschnigg Meets Goemboes

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Budapest, Aug. 10.

The Austrian Chancellor, Schuschnigg, arrived here on Friday from Szegedin where he had, at the invitation of the Hungarian Minister of Education, attended an open air performance of the dramatized version of the great Hungarian poet, Madach's "Tragedy of Mankind."

Schuschnigg was welcomed at the station by Premier Goemboes with whom he was subsequently closeted for a two-hour conversation.

The Chancellor returned to Vienna by air on Friday evening—Transocean Kuo Min.

COMPLETE UNDERSTANDING

Budapest, Aug. 10.

The meeting here between the Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Kurt Schuschnigg, and the Hungarian Premier, General Goemboes, has ended in an absolute understanding. This was the only statement issued after the meeting.

It has been suggested that the question of the accession of Archduke Otto to the throne of Austria or a union between Austria and Hungary under a Hapsburg King might have been discussed.

Dr. Schuschnigg, who flew here from Vienna, returned by air immediately after the meeting.—Reuter.

BAN IN THE SAAR

Singing Festival

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Saarbruecken, Aug. 10.

According to the "Saarbruecken Zeitung," the singing festival which was to take place here on September 7 and 8 and in which about 10,000 members of the singing societies of the neighbouring Reich-German districts were to participate, has been prohibited in consequence of objections raised by the Plebiscite Commission recently appointed by the League of Nations.

Although the report is not yet officially confirmed, it has caused much agitation among the Saar population since extensive preparations have already been made for the singing contest and it has been understood that the Government commission approved of the festival.

It is pointed out that the ban would entail considerable loss for the community and would, moreover, constitute a marked discrimination insofar as the League authorities had not objected to the anti-Fascist sports meeting which recently took place at Voelklingen on the Saar.—Transocean Kuo Min.

ITALIAN CO-OPERATION IN CHINA

Shanghai, Aug. 11.

Mr. Tang Yu-jen, questioned regarding Mr. Liu Wen-tao's return from Italy "to report on a scheme of co-operation," said that Mr. Liu has been rebuffed by the Government which wishes to make inquiries about conditions in Italy.—Reuter.

RAILWAY ECONOMY CUTS

Partial Restoration

London, Aug. 10.

A settlement was reached this afternoon between the representatives of Railway Trade Unions and the General Managers of the four great railway groups under which partial restorations of the economy cuts in the men's wages, which took effect in 1931, will be made, first in October and later in January.

Concessions made by the companies fall below the Union's demands but will involve an annual increase of the companies' expenditure exceeding one and half million pounds.—British Wireless.

CABLE NEWS IN BRIEF

French Military Expenditure

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Paris, August 11. France's military expenditure since January 1928 has moved up 102 milliard francs, according to a poster published on Friday by the Socialist Party giving a survey of the enormous course of "Military preparedness."

Analysing the figures, the poster points out that France spends 46 milliard francs daily on armaments while every Frenchman contributes largely towards military expenditure. The poster stresses that an extraordinary credit of 4 milliard francs has recently been granted by French parliament and actually marks the beginning of the armaments race now in progress on land, sea and the air. Referring to numerous scandals, the poster recalls that the estimates for the eastern fortifications have been exceeded by 65 per cent, while five contracts for army deliveries have involved an expenditure of 831 million francs. Since 1924, immense gasoline reservoirs have been constructed, and it was subsequently found that each of these huge reservoirs could be easily destroyed by the smallest incendiary bomb, so that subterranean bomb-proof reservoirs four are now being built at a cost of four milliard francs.—Transocean Kuo Min.

RUSSIA AND THE LEAGUE

Geneva, August 11. The already registered candidacy for League membership with condition of application remains unannounced and has achieved dignity according to a lengthy report in the Journal de Geneve on Friday.

The reasons governing the required secrecy are supposed to be the Soviets fear a last minute opposition from Poland and various other quarters.—Transocean Kuo Min.

THE ESCARTELLE INCIDENTS

Paris, August 11. The Minister for Public Works, Flandin, told a deputation of the Coal Miners' Union that the authorities had no desire to minimise the Escartelle incidents, and would take measures against "all foreign miners."

COMMUNIST DISTURBANCE

Paris, August 11. The arrival of twenty-five Soviet Russian athletes from Moscow was marked by angry scenes. About fifteen hundred communists awaited the Soviet athletes arriving to take part in the Communist sports, the train pulling up in the northern station. The police intervened and dispersed demonstrators. The police closed with the demonstrators who hurriedly threw cups, saucers, plates and other missiles which they took from the nearest cafes. Several waiters were injured.—Transocean Kuo Min.

VON CRAMM WINS

Hamburg, August 11. The German tennis player von Cramm and the American, Burwell, qualified on Friday for the final round of the men's singles in the German Tennis Championships here, von Cramm beating the Australian Quist while Burwell eliminated the Italian Setarolo. Cilly Aussen and Hilda Sperling—formerly Hilda Krahwinkel who since her marriage has been playing for Denmark—reached the final for Ladies Singles, the former defeating the English star, Peggy Scriven in three hard fought sets, 6-1, 2-6 and 6-3, while Hilda Sperling won her tie with the Swiss champion Eolette Payot.—Transocean Kuo Min.

"BROTHERS IN NEED"

Berlin, Aug. 10. The prohibition by the Soviet Government of the "Brothers in Need," a German relief organization for the aid of German citizens in Russia, brought forth a vigorous protest in the Berlin Press on Friday. The German journals emphasize that the institution is purely charitable in nature and is recognised as indispensable by such outstanding foreign personalities as the Archbishop of Canterbury and Cardinal Archbishop Innitzer of Vienna.

The "Deutsch Allgemeine Zeitung" states that there was no denying the fact that a lack of food at present exist in the wide regions of the Soviet Union and that hundreds of thousands have already died of hunger.

If the Soviet Government cuts off further help, concludes the paper, it may be reckoned as an act against civilization committed on purely dogmatic grounds.—Transocean Kuo Min.

NEW REICH COMMISSIONER

Berlin, Aug. 10. SAAR PROBLEM

Geneva, Aug. 10. The Saar problem will occupy the limelight at the 81st assembly of the League Council scheduled to begin on September 7, according to the programme published by the Secretariat here on Friday. The Saar Committee of three and the Plebiscite Commission will report on the negotiations that have already been made for the January voting.

The protest of Prince Pless against the measures taken by the Polish tax authorities, and the claims by the Swiss citizens for damages suffered during the World War form the other two items of general interest on the sessions agenda.—Transocean Kuo Min.

"MY FUEHRER"

SUNKEN SHIPS TO BE RAISED

Moscow, Aug. 10. Twenty ships resting at the bottom of the White Sea since the years of the Great War will again see the light of day before the coming winter, according to the special squad of engineers working night and day on the plans of refloating, cargo salvage and junking.

Though the complete map of the White Sea was prepared at Port Archangel, it exactly designates the last resting places of no less than 104 ships which went down at the same period, but only twenty were considered technically possible to salvage.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DESTROYER COLLISION

Rome, Aug. 10. Three members of the crew of the Italian destroyer "Usodimare" were killed and seventeen injured when the vessel collided with the coastal steamer, Pallas, in the Gulf of Naples on Friday morning. BERLIN SHARE MARKET

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, Aug. 10. The Bourse opened in irregular manner on Friday, the attention of the public chiefly being centred on fixed interest securities which advanced all along the line owing to lively demand, while the stock market was neglected and consequently suffered a further relapse.

The gains recorded in Wednesday's bullish movement were not only wiped out in the majority of the sections but many leading issues dropped well below Wednesday's closing levels. The bonds market on the other hand was bright and buoyant with sharp advances. Call Money was 4 to 4 1/2.

The feature of this week's business which covered only three days was Wednesday's remarkable upward swing which, however was a spent force in one day, the prices crumbling away on the two following market sessions so that the net result was negative. The ill-edged securities, however, were strong throughout, indicating that the public was once more showing a decided preference for safe investment.—Transocean Kuo Min.

APPOINTMENTS

Diplomatic Service

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, July 28.
The King has approved the following appointments in His Majesty's Diplomatic Service:

Sir Reginald Hervey Hoare, K.C.M.G., His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Tehran, to be His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Bucharest.

Mr. Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, C.M.G., His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Riga, Tallinn, and Kovno, to be His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Tehran.

Mr. Edmund St. John Debonnaire John Monson, His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Mexico City, to be His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Riga, Tallinn, and Kovno.

Mr. Archibald John Kerr, Clark Kerr, His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Stockholm, to be His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Mexico City.

Mr. Charles Michael Palaret, C.M.G., His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Bucharest, to be His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Stockholm.

Sir Reginald Harvey Hoare was knighted last year. He is 52 years of age, and has had wide experience in the Diplomatic Service, especially in the East. In 1925 he was raised to the rank of Minister Plenipotentiary while employed in the British Residency in Cairo, and was promoted to the post of British Minister at Tehran in 1931. From 1914 to 1919 he saw service in Russia, at Petrograd and Archangel.

Mr. Knatchbull-Hugessen was appointed Minister to Riga, Tallinn, and Kovno in 1930. He entered Foreign Office in 1908. He was First Secretary at The Hague from 1919 to 1922, was transferred to be Counsellor of Embassy in Brussels in 1923.

Mr. Kerr, who is a son of the late Mr. John Kerr Clark, of Crossbasket, Hamilton, entered the diplomatic service in 1905 and served in Berlin, Buenos Aires, Washington, Rome, and Tehran before being employed at the Foreign Office from 1916-1919.

In 1919 he went to Tangier and in 1922 to Cairo as counsellor to the residency. In 1925 he was appointed Minister to Guatemala and in 1928 Minister to Chile. He remained at Santiago until 1930, when the Legation was raised to the rank of Embassy and was appointed Minister in Stockholm in 1931.

Mr. Palaret was appointed Minister to Roumania in 1929. After serving in Rome, Vienna, Paris, and Athens he was attached to the Peace Delegation at Paris in 1918, acting as First Secretary there in 1919. Subsequently he served in Tokyo and Peking and at the Foreign Office.

"THE INVISIBLE MAN"

At The King's Theatre

"To be or not to be: this is the question!" And technical experts, cameramen, and electricians at Universal City wagged their heads for two long years!

The reason was the perplexing production problems which Universal faced, and finally solved, in transferring H. G. Wells' fantastic story, "The Invisible Man," now at the King's Theatre, to the screen.

In directing Boris Karloff in the memorable "Frankenstein," Director James Whale chose to keep the terrifying Monster silent throughout the picture. But in directing "The Invisible Man," Whale was forced to reverse the rule that weird screen characters should be seen and not heard, and make his audience feel the presence of a menacing creature without seeing him.

How could a man actively participating in a well-lighted photographic scene be made invisible? How could he become a menace, a dramatic figure, when he was not visible to either the actors in the scene with him or the audience?

Photograph invisibility? Studio experts, cameramen and electricians were outspoken in their protests. After all, there were some things outside the pale of possibility even in a picture studio.

Nevertheless it had to be done. There was the story, marking time in vaults. It had been bought and paid for. And the price was a pretty penny.

So for two whole years Universal studio technicians knit their brows and drove their ingenuity to the breaking point. But the total results were nothing to speak about.

"Show the presence of The Invisible Man by spirit wires moving chairs, and what not. Show him by suspending a coat, trousers, or hat on wire," were the most persistent offerings. But that was too obvious. It might have been done a few years ago, but to-day never!

However, studio ingenuity would not go down to defeat. The problem was finally solved. The picture was made.

How? There are studio secrets that are never told. They are, perhaps, guarded as stock in trade. This much, however, is known. Director Whale, cameraman Charles Edison, and Jack Pierce, Universal make-up expert discovered, after months of ceaseless experiment and the employment of the well-known trial and error system, the tremendous possibilities offered with the use of small mirrors arranged in such the same manner as magicians employ in creating optical illusions.

Perhaps an idea was borrowed from Mr. Thurston or the late Harry Houdini. At any rate the idea worked, and the "invisible man" stalks through the picture, a moving force, without form or feature. With this complicated process it was even made possible for Claude Rains, who plays the title role, to be seen as he fades from his real self into the shadow that is the man, invisible. He is seen disrobing, and his clothes fall from his form. Nothing but invisibility remains.

"This much you can say," says Director Whale with a twinkle in his eye, "The Invisible Man is not wrapped in cellophane!"

With the exception of Gloria Stuart, who has the feminine lead, the cast of "The Invisible Man" is all-English. Dudley Digges, Henry Travers, Una O'Connor, William Harrigan and Merle Tottenham all of them hail from the British Isles.

A Good Film

The King's Theatre are fortunate in having obtained this film, "The Invisible Man," for it will draw full houses for them. Taken from the novel by H.G. Wells it is very near to the story, with the exception that the police in their hunt for the Invisible Man are provided with the latest inventions of science such as broadcasting. H. G. Wells in his fantastic stories has always been very painstaking as to detail, and around one marvelous idea he always depicts the incidents real as to life. For instance the Invisible Man is only invisible himself, but his food would not be invisible until digested. Similarly he leaves footprints in the snow which form his undoing because, by tracing them the police shoot him.

The technique of the film is extraordinary and we are presented with the exact state of affairs that would occur if a man were to find an elixir that might render him invisible. The scene depicting him taking off his bandages in front of a mirror is quite extraordinary as to its realism, and can't leave others to surmise how it has been done.

POPE'S VIEWS ON FILMS

"Terribly Immoral"

Castel Gandolfo, Aug. 11.
His Holiness the Pope to-day warmly associated himself with the campaign in the United States against immoral films, when addressing representatives of the International Federation of the Cinematograph Franchise.

His Holiness said that it was the most solemn duty of the press to work for a cleaner film industry. The present state of the screen was "terribly immoral," he said.

"We have had reports on subjects given on the screen which fill us with horror," he added. The Pope praised the "noble crusade" of Catholic Bishops in the United States for clean films, but said that the campaign should not be confined to Catholics, but should be worldwide.—Reuter.

The star of the film Claude Rains is not seen except as a figure wrapped up in bandages, carrying clothes, until the last scene shows him on his death bed, and he recovers visibility. We hear his voice and see his actions, or rather the result of his actions. Doors open, steps are heard, things inside rooms and outside also move for no apparent reason. We even see a bicycle going along as it were on its own. It is a triumph of the film magician's art.

It was a pleasure to hear exclamations of delight from many children, chiefly Chinese, at these wonders.

SYLVIA SIDNEY

In "Jennie Gerhardt"

Sylvia Sidney plays one of the most difficult roles ever essayed by an actress as the heroine of Theodore Dreiser's "Jennie Gerhardt," which comes to the King's Theatre on Thursday. The picture is a B. P. Schulberg production for Paramount.

Literary critics have pronounced "Jennie Gerhardt" the greatest study of modern woman ever written by an American author. It is the story of a girl destined for love who finds spiritual happiness only after the most dramatic adventures and misadventures such a girl can encounter.

The film covers a span of twenty-eight years, while Miss Sidney changes from a fresh and lovely girl of eighteen into a gray-haired woman almost fifty, but still retaining the same charm as in her youth.

The actress is required not only to vary her characterization with the advancing years, but to shade her performance in keeping with the changes in feminine conduct and fashions which took place during the period.

Although she is only twenty-two years old, Miss Sidney has won top ranking among the film's dramatic actresses, following outstanding performances in "Madame Butterfly," "Pick Up," "An American Tragedy," "Merrily We Go To Hell," and other films made during her three years in Hollywood. Prior to that period she was considered one of the most talented young actresses of the New York stage. She scored her greatest stage hit in Nina Delmar's "Bad Girl."

In "Jennie Gerhardt," Miss Sidney heads a cast which includes Donald Cook, Mary Astor, H. B. Warner and Edward Arnold. Marion Gering, who directed her in "Bad Girl" on the stage, and in "Madame Butterfly" and other films.

Not in It

A Negro cloakroom attendant was badly startled one night when a guest in evening dress rushed in and began to smash one hat after another.

"Hold on, boss. What you all doin'?" "What fo' you smashin' up dese silk ties fo'?"

"I want to find my own," said the man. "It's an opera hat; collapsible, you know. None of these seems to be it."

BRITAIN'S AIR POLICY

No Quarrel With The Government

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, July 28.

Lord Reading, speaking in the debate on the Government's new air policy in the House of Lords, found no quarrel with the Government's decision to increase the Air Force though he permitted himself to wonder why the Government's statement of policy should have been made at this moment before the Disarmament Conference was a proved failure and so soon after the Government had declared its approval of the French proposal for an Eastern Locarno. But the essential point in Lord Reading's speech was his announcement that he was not prepared to oppose the Government.

What Liberals will ask is whether Lord Reading is thus expressing the views of the Liberal party as a whole, both in the Commons as well as in the Lords. It will come as a great surprise to not a few Liberals at Westminster if Herbert Samuel does not lead his party into the Lobby in support of the Labour vote of censure on the Government's policy next Monday.

At a guess—it can be no more, for a full party meeting has not yet expressed its views upon the matter—one would say that there is no doubt whatever that the majority of the party in the Commons are prepared actively to oppose the Government's policy, which is, of course, what one would expect.

WATSON AND IDDON HIT CENTURIES

P. T. Eekersley again won the toss for Lancashire yesterday, and though the pitch appeared to be in perfect condition, the visiting county scored only 48 runs in the first hour. At the close of play, however, the total had been taken to 407 for two wickets.

Watson gave a difficult chance to Lee (J. W. off Mitchell-Innes when he had scored 25 but at 74 Hopwood was caught at first slip. At the lunch interval the score was 102 for one wicket.

While Watson continued his unenterprising display, Iddon scored freely on the leg side. After batting laboriously for two and three-quarter hours, Watson completed his 50. Iddon reached his 50 in eighty minutes, but was fortunate in being dropped by Lee (F.).

Though the cricket before tea, when the score was 223 for one wicket, was unenterprising, the batsmen subsequently attacked the bowling severely. Iddon reached his hundred in two and three-quarter hours, whereas Watson occupied one hour and fifty minutes longer in reaching three figures. At 376, however, Burroughs made a fine running catch to send back Iddon. Batting altogether four and a half hours, Iddon made 174 out of 305 in one of the best stands ever put together for Lancashire. He hit three 6's and seventeen 4's. Watson has included one 6 and ten 4's in his 162.

RETURNED BANISHEE

Arrested And Sent To Goal

A Chinese named Ng Kam, aged 35 years, a returned banishee, pleaded guilty before Mr. Lee at the Kowloon Police Court on Saturday morning, on a charge of returning to the Colony before the term of his banishment had expired. The police stated that the accused was banished from the Colony on March 5, 1934 for a period of ten years, but recently he was seen and recognized by a Chinese detective who arrested him in Shanghai Street, Yau-mat last Friday evening.

When questioned by his Worship, the accused said that he returned to the Colony to see his friends and tried to get some work to do.

A sentence of one year's imprisonment with hard labour was passed.

OPIUM DIVAN RAIDED

A Chinese named Lam Man, made his appearance before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, charged with running an opium divan and with unlawful possession of 192 heroin pills.

It was stated by a Chinese detective that the heroin pills were found hidden under defendant's bed.

The defendant pleaded guilty to both charges. His Worship, after hearing the evidence, imposed a fine of $150 or in default three months' hard labour on the first charge and $192 or three months on the second count, the sentences to run concurrently.

THEFT OF OVERCOATS

Arrested in Queen's Road East last Friday night, with two overcoats, a fountain pen and three lady's powder-boxes in his possession, a Chinese named Tam Shun, an unemployed, was charged before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning.

The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge. It was discovered by the Police that the articles were all stolen by the accused from No. 192, Jaffee Road, 3rd floor, Wan-chai.

The accused was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

Tai Tsot, a revenue officer, was charged before Mr. Macdwyen at Central Magistracy on Saturday with attempting to obtain a bribe of $15 from Chiu Ping, an amah and from Chiu Mei Lan, both of the Koon Ma Terrace, Happy Valley.

On the application of Mr. Hin Shing Lo, who appeared for the defence, the case was adjourned until next Thursday, bail being allowed at $500.

BABE RUTH TO RETIRE

His Ambitions This Season

New York, Aug. 10. Babe Ruth, most famous of all American baseballers and former "Home Run King," has definitely decided to retire from active play at the end of this season.

Interviewed yesterday, the Babe said, "I am definitely through as a regular player at the end of this season. I don't really know what the future holds for me. I would like to remain in baseball as a manager, and perhaps do a little pinch hitting on Saturdays and Sundays, or on days when I could help the gate receipts."

"There is nothing I would rather do than finish my career in Boston where I began it. I would like to wind up this season by helping the New York Yankees to win the American League Championship pennant and the World Series title. It would be a fitting climax for my career as a regular player."

Babe Ruth is apparently fully satisfied that his physical condition demands his retirement from the game as a regular player. "I expect to join Johnny Shibe and Earl Mack on a trip to Japan after the World Series, after which I will be ready to consider the best offers, if any," he concluded. —Reuter.

JAPAN-MANCHUKUO TELEPHONE

Tokyo, August 2. The opening ceremony of the wireless telephone service linking Manchukuo and Japan, was simultaneously held at four cities, Tokyo, Hankin, Osaka and Dairen, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

In Tokyo, at the Central Telephone Office, Premier Okada, the Communications Minister Mr. Tokonami, General Terauchi, the Manchukuo Minister, and the Railway Minister, Mr. Uchida, exchanged congratulations with the Manchukuo Premier, Mr. Cheng, General Hsiao, President Hsiao, and other high officials.

In Osaka, Mayor Seki, Lt. General Terawaki, and Mr. Seki, of the Osaka Communications Bureau, had congratulatory talks with dignitaries in Manchukuo. The conversation was very friendly heard on both sides.

SOUTHWEST VIEWS

On Intentions Of Chiang Kai Shek

Canton, August 11. In an interview with the reporter yesterday, Mr. Hsiao Fu-chen, member of C.S.C. and the Southwest Political Council, said that an alarming report has been received here that Chiang Kai Shek suddenly ordered General Yang Fu Sheng and Wu Tso Nan to bring pressure on Liu Shang, Chairman of the Szechuen Provincial Government. If our memory is not poor, Mr. Hsiao said, we can still remember that not long ago Chiang Kai Shek rendered every assistance to Liu Shang in order to oust Liu Fen Fel from Szechuen. Now he uses his forces again to get rid of Liu Shang. It is obvious Mr. Hsiao declared, that Chiang Kai Shek has been doing what he can all these years to organize his personal power.

Regarding Sino-Japanese relations, Mr. Hsiao said that Li Chak Yit, a pro-Japanese member of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Nanking, is now visiting Japan where he has announced Chiang Kai Shek's policy toward that country. According to Li, Nanking government's policy toward Japan has been changed, and Chiang Kai Shek will be declared President of China this November when the 5th Congress will be held. It is obvious from his statement, Mr. Hsiao said, that Li's mission is to conduct negotiation with the Japanese for more humiliating terms and to urge Japan to make loans to the Nanking government.

Concerning the death of Mr. Lin Chi Men, member of C.S.C. and the Southwest Political Council, Mr. Hsiao said that the death of Mr. Lin is a great loss to Kuomintang and his friends, as he was a great man who had done arduous work for the Party as well as the people. —Central Press.

JAPANESE ARMS PLANS

Admiral Saito To Go To London?

Tokyo, Aug. 6. Viscount Admiral M. Saito, former Premier, may represent Japan at the 1935 Naval Limitations Conference, it was reported in official circles here to-day.

Premier Katsuko Okada is now devoting much of his time to the selection of the chief delegate and is desirous of selecting a man who is an expert both in naval and political matters since it is believed that the conference will discuss far Eastern political questions and the Japanese mandated islands issue as well as the naval limitations question.

It was believed that most of the veteran Japanese statesmen are supporting former Premier Saito for appointment as chief delegate, believing him to be the most capable available.

Meanwhile, Mr. N. Satoh, Japanese Ambassador to France, who is on leave in Tokyo, visited the Navy Minister, Admiral M. Osumi and other naval leaders to-day and discussed problems relating to the 1935 Conference and Japan's relations with the League of Nations.

They also exchanged views on other subjects, including Britain's policy towards continental nations, Germany's insistence on armament equality, France's demands for security, and the Italian and French policy towards European disarmament.

During the discussion, Admiral Osumi declared that Japan intends to submit an entirely new disarmament plan at the 1935 Conference, based on a spirit of international co-operation and peace. He declared that the existing naval ratios are harmful to the cause of genuine and lasting international peace.

CONFERENCE AT KULING

"Exchange Of Views"

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, August 12. Although Nanking officials insist that there is no formal conference at Kuling, the summer mountainous resort in Northern Kiangsi, but only an exchange of views among the leaders of the Nanking Government, members of the South-west Political Council here are informed to-day that this gathering is discussing matters affecting the political situation in the South-west.

Brig. General Li Shueung Yung, a senior officer of the First Group Army, and Mr. Yang Teh Chao, personal representative of General Chen Tsai Tong, are en route to Kuling. General Li is to take part in discussion or "exchange of views" concerning suppression of Communists. Mr. Yang is to remain at the field headquarters of General Chiang Kai Shek, Chairman of the Military Affairs Commission.

These two men are not to exchange views with the higher-ups at Kuling but rather to "cover" what views have been exchanged among the high Nanking officials at that report.

When representatives from Nanking were here six weeks ago, Canton officials and these agents agreed that there would be close co-operation between Kwangtung and Nanking troops in suppression of the Reds and that the political status of the South-west should be decided at the November meeting of the Kuomintang Fifth National Congress.

Latest indications show that these two terms are not practicable and that both sides have to start fresh manoeuvring before the Congress meets. There is a strong tendency here to ignore the Congress and the South-west will continue its present status on the ground of political expediency.

ANGLO-GERMAN TRADE AGREEMENT

Bank Of England And Reichsbank Accounts

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages, Ordinance, 1904. Received, August 10, 7.30 p.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 11.

An Anglo-German agreement of considerable importance for trade between the two countries was signed at Berlin on Friday but the successful close of the negotiations was only announced on Saturday in deference to the wishes of the English delegates.

The agreement consists of thirteen clauses. The principle of operation is that the Bank of England will open an account at the Reichsbank in Berlin. The German importers who have an account at the Reichsbank will pay the purchase price of imports into the Reichsbank in marks. The Reichsbank will transfer five per cent. invoice value direct to the English exporter in Sterling and 95 per cent. to the Bank of England in marks. The English importers will pay the Bank of England in Sterling for goods bought in Germany whereas the German exporter the corresponding equivalent in marks from its accumulated credit at the Reichsbank in Berlin. This scheme would only work with countries to which Germany sells more than she buys. This is also the case with England but not with the British Empire as a whole from which Germany buys far more than she sells, hence the scheme does not apply to the British Dominions or colonies.

The agreement does not apply to transactions already completed but only to those that may be carried out on and after August 20. Moreover, the plan does not apply to goods whose import is under special control, such as wool, raw cotton, yarns and woolen cloth. One of the most important provisions of the agreement is that its application must not endanger the stability of the German currency. "If German stocks of foreign currencies become so far depleted as to constitute danger then either side may denounce the arrangement with fourteen days' notice. Then the Reichsbank can decline further payments to the Bank of England account as soon as the total accumulated in the credit balance amounted to five million marks. The Bank of England will not credit the English exporter with Sterling amount until the corresponding mark amount is received from the German importer." —Transocean Kuo Min.

WEEK-END MOTOR
ACCIDENT

Young Chinese Girl Injured

A motor accident, which resulted in a young Chinese girl named Lee Pay, being badly injured occurred near Bowring Canal, Wanchai on Saturday morning, shortly after 11 a.m.

It was stated by an eye-witness that the victim was playing with some children in the middle of the road and was struck by a private motor car.

The driver, showing great presence of mind, attempted to swerve, but it was too late to avoid the accident, as the front wheel of the vehicle had already run over the girl.

The victim was immediately conveyed to the Government Civil Hospital by the same car.

LOCAL WEDDING

White-Berruex

A charming wedding took place at St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, on Saturday when Miss Maud White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. White became the wife of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Berruex. The Rev. J. R. Higgs, M.A. officiated.

The bride who was given away by her brother, Mr. C. White, wore a very new gown by "Eunice," of parchment chiffon over taffeta beautifully moulded to her slender figure. The only trimming being cabling of the same material and a collar of orange blossoms. Long tight-fitting sleeves with wide flares at the wrist trimmed with rows of tiny cabling corresponded with the foot of the robe which was cleverly arranged to form a long flowing train presenting a most fascinating effect. A three quarter length Brussels net veil held in position by a halo of chiffon and orange blossoms completed the bridal attire. A sheath of gladioli were carried.

Mr. G. Gurevitch was the Best Man, while Mr. Rupert Baldwin was at the organ.

The bride's mother wore a becoming gown of printed voile.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Hall, after which the happy couple left for their honeymoon which is being spent at Repulse Bay.

For her going-away dress the bride wore an ensemble in printed linen in delightful shades of green and lemon with large picture hat trimmed in the same shades.

C. E. R. REPORT

Service Only By Day

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Message Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 11, 7.30 p.m.)

Moscow, August 11.

The report received from Rudi, the administrator of the Chinese Eastern Railway stationed at Harbin reveals startling facts about conditions under which the rail service is maintained. For instance from January 1 to August 6, 1934, sixteen railway accidents were caused by bandits, 41 cases of damage done to the railway system, 81 armed guards on the trains and 116 railway servants were taken prisoners, nine cases of damage to telephone or telegraph lines, 48 murders, nine being railway officials, 102 wounded, 43 robber attacks, and 22 cases of incendiarism.

Two locomotives and 407 carriages and wagons were destroyed. The material damage exceeded 300,000 gold roubles. Everytime before a train is sent off on the railway line it had to be inspected. The trains only run by day. These precautionary measures cost the company hundreds of thousands of gold roubles. The administration of the Chinese Eastern Railway does everything possible to protect the passengers and make arrangements that all passenger trains are accompanied by armoured cars but only the effective treatment would be the eradication of robbers.—Transocean Kuo Min.

DISCOMFORT IN CANTONPeople Sleep In The Parks

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Aug. 12.
High pressure and strong humidity prevail in Canton to-day. Although the weather is cloudy, it is very close and warm. Many people here agree that last night was uncomfortable owing to the absence of any breeze.

Mercury stands to-day at 86 degrees Fahrenheit. Rain or thunder showers is predicted this afternoon. Although the Chinese calendar has heralded the arrival of autumn, this month is the hottest in the year.

Last night the parks were full of people, who could not sleep at home. The closing hours of these parks are extended to 2 a.m., and one of them is open all night. Those people living in congested places had no sleep or little at all.

Each police station has doctors to attend to people brought in after being stricken by the heat. In addition, police constables are carrying small medicine boxes for the immediate relief of those prostrated by the heat.

Free tea stands at street corners provide relief to the poor people, rickshaw men, and coolies.

CHINA NEW TARIFFOpposition In Canton

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Aug. 12.
The City Chamber of Commerce has sent a telegram to the National Government at Nanking and to the Ministry of Finance opposing the new tariff which became effective on July 1. Special stress is laid on the fact that the reduction of import tariff on cotton goods and paper hurts Chinese industry.

Stating that the Canton Chamber of Commerce supports the agitation of the public bodies in Shanghai in opposing the new tariff, the telegram points out that foreign dumping is being encouraged under the new scale.

Opposition by the Chamber of Commerce against the new tariff is largely based on the opinion of the different guilds. The cotton cloth guild voices strong opposition to the new tariff, because their business is affected by the competition of Japanese goods.

On the other hand, Dr. H. H. Kung, the Ministry of Finance, declares that the new tariff is beneficial to China. He said that the scale was a result of close study.

It is learned that if the National Government does not modify the new tariff the Chamber of Commerce will petition the Canton authorities to repudiate the new tariff and recall the old schedule. Such a step is quite likely, as the opposition to the July tariff is not confined to Canton but almost nation-wide. Japan is the benefactor of this new rate.

AUTOMATIC TRAFFIC CONTROL

"Eva" Installed In City

Motorists in general and pedestrians in particular will no doubt be glad to learn that probably within this week, Hong Kong will have its first "Eva" Electronic vehicle actuated automatic traffic signal. The signal which is situated at the cross-roads of Pedder Street, Des Voeux Road and Chater Road, the city's busiest thoroughfare, has just been installed, and according to those responsible—the Hong Kong Tramways, Ltd. and the Electric Department of the P.W.D.—it will probably be put into action about the middle of this week.

The whole installation is now complete, with the exception of the erection of a fire alarm bell which is to be placed on top of the signal.

The device is the most modern of automatic traffic controls, possessing an all-but-human nerve centre in the controlling box.

HONG KONG, AUGUST 13, 1934.

FIRING ON SHIPS

Recently there have been two unfortunate incidents of firing on river steamers between Canton and Hong Kong. In examining and criticising these affairs we in no way wish to be anything but impartial. Neither do we wish to take one side rather than the other. Our object is to help those who would like to see friendly relations established between the two governments; those of Hong Kong and Canton. For certain reasons there seems to be some difficulty for the proper authorities settling once and for all such incidents, and therefore we should like to draw the attention of those most highly placed as to the possible repetition of such events, which if someone were to be killed might lead to unpleasantness and increased friction.

The first incident happened some eight weeks ago, when the s.s. Lungshan was passing the new sugar factory near Suncho, on her voyage to Canton. At that point she passed a tow consisting of a launch and two junks, the second of which was a passenger junk the Tai Ming. Three shots were fired by a soldier standing on the top deck of the latter vessel. A complaint was made to the British Consul-General, who on the same day passed it on to the Mayor of Canton. The latter replied two days after the event that a responsible member of the junk would be made to appear before the municipal authorities. Yet three weeks later the mayor himself called upon the Consul-General and stated that the perpetrator could not be traced, but that he had reprimanded the owners of the junk and he expressed regret at the episode.

The next incident happened in the first week in August, when the s.s. Kwangtung was passing the same spot. The captain as well as a foreign member of the staff of the Chinese Maritime Customs, who was on the bridge at the time, saw a young lad handling a Mauser automatic pistol. This irresponsible youth was in a launch towing some junks laden with sugar, and for no apparent reason he put three bullets into the Kwangtung, one of which passed clean through the saloon. Any excuse such as that the steamer was going too fast is out of the question, since the captain, observing that the tow had hoisted the red flag had already slowed down.

We would first point out that in Britain the first thing that is taught to a new recruit, before he is allowed to handle a fire arm, is that he must not point the gun, even if he knows it to be empty, against any person. It would not be accepted after an accident to say that it was only in fun. This irresponsible youngster committed a breach of regulations which is quite unpardonable. It is certain that had he been British the

BOTH PARTIES ADAMANT Russia, Japan And The C.E.R.

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 12, 7.50 p.m.)

Moscow, August 12. The question of the disposal of the Chinese Eastern Railway is assuming very serious proportions, according to a report received here this afternoon.

Although the Japanese insist on discussing the terms under the name of Manchukuo, the Soviet Government are equally determined on negotiating direct with Tokyo.

No details have been divulged though it is understood that the Soviet Government have decided that they will "not accept anything but the full price" for their share of the railway.

FURTHER ALLEGATIONS.
Moscow, August 12. Further allegations that Japanese officials are impeding the operation of the Chinese Eastern Railway are made in reports from Khabarovsk by M. Rudy, manager of the C.E.R., who asserts that the Japanese military have declared they have alienated the zone of the C.E.R. in the area of Pogranichnaya to which entrance is forbidden under pain of very strict punishments except the narrow strip along the railway. As a result the C.E.R. agents are unable to supervise the alienated zone in order to make the necessary repairs.

Reuter.
strongest action would have been taken against him.

We have pointed out that we wish to be impartial, and therefore we shall bring up an affair that happened just over a year ago. The captain of a Chinese Custom's launch, an Englishman, while attempting to stop a junk with a cargo of five hundred bags of sugar, fired a round near the junk's stern, and a splinter killed a three year old Chinese girl. The incident happened in British waters, and the captain was brought before an English judge and jury. The jury did not agree, but out of seven, five found him not guilty, and he was acquitted. The judge, however, made the following statement: "If the verdict were left to me, it would have been different. I think you are a most fortunate man to have fallen into the hands of this jury."

We are merely asking if it is not possible for the Canton authorities to avoid being criticised by showing that they are just as capable of being just as the British authorities. If the individual cannot be traced, what about the soldier in charge?

Some seven years ago the s.s. Lungshan was fired upon near Whampoa. At that time the Consular authorities made no attempt to find out exactly what happened and they assumed that the firing had been done from the Whampoa forts where a considerable number of cadets were billeted. Actually it was done further up by some villagers who resented the steamer passing rapidly and as a result having their bunds washed down. They had on several occasions threatened to do this, and therefore when an ultimatum was issued asking for an apology for the incident, it was manifestly unfair. A lot of fuss was made about nothing.

The recent incidents are very different and we should not like to think that the Chinese civil authorities could not act for fear of offending anyone who might be protecting these soldiers. Recently there has been an evident attempt on the part of the Chinese authorities to reach a better understanding with the British. Now friendship and understanding can only be founded upon a base of mutual respect and confidence. For this reason we should like to draw the attention of the Canton leaders to a situation which if it is allowed to continue, can but be harmful to these relations, and since these ships carry many Chinese passengers, might result in death or injury to one of their own nationals. We know how hard it is to control everybody in such a vast country as China, but as these incidents are causing much talk in shipping circles it is only fair to hope that the necessary steps will be taken to stop what would not be tolerated for an instant by the people of England in their own country.

CHINA AND JAPAN A New Movement Outlined

Shanghai Aug. 8. "A world war by 1936, and within its advent the ruin of united China against Japan." Such was the gist of the interview given by General Li Tu, former commander-in-chief of the anti-Japanese volunteer corps in the north-east during the Manchukuo trouble, at a luncheon party at the Palace Hotel yesterday. General Li Tu is one of the "Preparatory Committee of the Council of the Chinese People for Armed Self Defence," the recent manifesto of which, urging Chinese people to rise against the present policy of the Government and oppose Japan and Japanese interests in China, was published in last Thursday's "North-China Daily News."

General Li Tu, explained through an interpreter that the ultimate aim of the movement was to throw off the Japanese yoke in China, but at the present time the movement is in its infancy. He said that a number of influential people throughout China, including members of the Central Committee of the Kuomintang, industrialists, bankers, military and other persons well known in Chinese circles. The original proposers of the organization were members of the Central Committee of the Kuomintang. Branches of the organization have now been established in the principal cities of China. From these branches it is proposed to influence the masses of China's population, and gradually win the wholehearted support of the country against Japan. At the same time influential persons at the Central Government will do their best to sway those in authority in favour of the movement. In this manner the organization hopes to gain the Central Government's confidence peacefully and not forcibly.

Armed Self-Defence.
General Li Tu mentioned some of the organizers of the council of the "Preparatory Committee of the Council of the Chinese People for Armed Self Defence," which he at first wished to be kept secret, but the names mentioned were published with the manifesto, when it appeared last Thursday. The Council includes the following persons: Mr. Ma Siang-pei, a long-standing civic leader; Mr. Liao Chung-wei, widow of the famous revolutionary leader and Minister of Finance in the Canton Government, who was assassinated there; Mr. Sun Yat-sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese revolution; Dr. S. L. Chang; Mr. Pei Yuan-ti, a former member of the Kuomintang; and Prof. Chen Chi, educationalist and former statesman.

General Li Tu is quite certain that the movement will have the backing of the entire Chinese nation once the masses, who make up the greater portion of China, have grasped the wrong Japan has done to China. Even now country folk when asked if they knew anything about Japan would reply that that was the country which annexed part of China. General Li Tu was all for making war on Japan right away but he was unable to get sufficient support in this idea.

Six Main Points.
There are six main categories into which the manifesto, which was termed "The Holy War of the Chinese people against Japan For Ever," and also a "Campaign for the Liberation of Greater China, For Ever," can be divided. The programme starts with the mobilization of the whole of China's fighting forces, on Sea, Land, and in the Air. Then comes the mobilization of the people of the nation. Thirdly, the arming of the whole body of the people. Fourthly, methods of confiscation of all Japanese owned property in China, the seizure of the property of all "traitors," the revenue from which will be devoted in financing the war against Japan. The fifth category concerns the formation of a National Council of Chinese people, and the last, urges alliance with the "enemies of Japan."

Regarding the financing of the movement, General Li Tu said that besides the confiscation of Japanese property, those interested in the aims of the movement would contribute sums of money towards it. General Li Tu could not say when sufficient support would have been gained by the organization for them to strike, but he based his plans on the start of the next world war, which he thought would take place in the near future, commencing in the East and involving the whole world.

GERMANY'S DEBTS

London, August 11. A meeting in Manchester of Splinters, Merchants and Exporters engaged in the export of cotton yarns to Germany unanimously decided to continue the present suspension of business with Germany until an agreement is reached providing for the payment of outstanding debts.

A resolution passed by the meeting expressed emphatic dissatisfaction at the conclusion of the agreement to cover payment for future trade without also arranging for payment of the outstanding commercial debts.

The resolution urges that in the absence of any satisfactory provision for the payment of such debts the British Government should implement the Debts and Clearing Offices Act.

If Gossip We Must

BY "STOPGAP"

One of the most popular forms of sports in the summer months.

An exciting week, what with the dollar skipping up and down likehouse St. like a spring lamb. But, as one is bound to confess, not a very Gossipy one. We have reached the time of year when we are beginning to get so tired of people's faces that the constant repetition of their names in this column, as having been somewhere or done something, must excite thoughts of homicide. Personally, I feel a tendency to stick more and more, if not to my friends, to my fan side, and let the world pass me by unnoticed; which does not get me far with this article.

I was lured out of my shell, however, on Tuesday, when I was asked out to the U.S.R.C. dance. I thought it rather a bold step to hold a dance in such very hot weather, but not a bit of it. People poured in. Capt. Dunlop, who has done a very great deal to make these dances a success, threw one of his usual mammoth parties, including Mrs. Maclean, Pat Master, Yvonne Shenton, Anna Dodwell, Major Tyndall, old Uncle Tom Cobley and all. He also performed the duties of Musical Director, "conducting" the Radio Gramophone with great skill. Captain and Mrs. Anderson also had a large party in which the East Lancashire element prevailed. They seemed to be getting on very well with each other.

Mrs. Betty Barry was there in the prettiest frock I have yet seen her wear, which is saying something. Everyone sat on the lawn between dances, enjoying the breeze and the booze. It was deliciously cool and peaceful and I suppose romantic to people who are of that turn of mind. By the way, it struck me as a curious paradox that the U.S.R.C. is the only really tropical-looking place in Hong Kong or the Territories; and that it achieves this effect by a lovely row of (artificially planted) Palm Trees.

Where, oh, where is the East of one's imagination, with Temple bells and palms swaying in the scented breeze, and exquisite girls dancing in inadequate straw skirts. Here one sees only concrete tenements, dance halls and sewage carts.

Driven by curiosity (and Hong Kong, as, which prevented my bathing myself) I got out my motor car yesterday, and lightly diving the spiders from the seat, I went for a tour of the Hong Kong bathing beaches. Deepwater Bay was disappointing: there was only one bather there, a very tall thin man who seemed to be perpetually occupied in picking sand out of his toes. I had a beer and passed on to Repulse Bay.

This was a very different kettle of fish. Seldom have I seen such a mass of hot humanity. There were all the English Margate types; the stolid fishes in a deck chair reading; inevitably, the News of the World, the enormously fat mother in a blue bathing dress threatening to assault on the posterior of her young unless they "drop that dirty thing and come here at once." The bronzed young men! The frilly-deeds with dimpled knees! And in the background, the matched owners looked on with a polite and rather strained condensation. It was all very stimulating. I had another beer and again passed on.

I had a third beer with a hospitable soul and passed on.

Driving through to Causeway Bay, past the Chinese Bathing Club, I was impelled to wonder how anyone thought they were going to accommodate all that mass of people, all enjoying their baths, in one Lido or two Lidos or Ten Lidos. So, thinking sleepily, I reached home, had seven more beers in quick succession and passed out.

REPULSE-BAY-MORE-FAR

While on the subject of beaches, let me mention that I hear on all sides that people are quite enchanted with the new ones, at Repulse Bay, More Far, and are beginning to turn up scornful noses at what is now known as "Old Brighton Beach" across the bay.

The sampan, too has come into its own, and sampan girls are coining money, now that there is a regular ferry service to these distant shores.

You have only to walk to the water's edge and wave, for a sampan to appear, (as if by magic), complete with smiling owner, an absurd duck-board (which is supposed to prevent you getting wet as you climb in, but it doesn't!) a nice mat to sit upon, and an awning overhead. Of course all the children adore the trip across, and will be simply furious when the road is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Butters, with their two pretty little daughters Isabel and Jennifer, are often to be seen going off by sampan, so are Mr. and Mrs. Orlepp and Wilfred, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanger with Charlotte, Helen and Eleanor—but these keen young swimmers will be missing for the next few weeks, as they went off with their father in his last business trip, and are spending part of their holidays with friends in Fochow.

Another devotee of the middle beach is Mr. Kinghorn, who has built a most attractive bathing shed, and has even laid out a tiny garden-plot above the little stream that trickles over the rocks. Another shed, designed by Mr. Pearce, is done on original lines, and has a charming half-moon verandah, with a magnificent view across the bay.

Of course it is nice to go off on expensive holidays to Baguio, or Japan... and it is doubtless amusing to follow the gold braid and Navy-blue up to Wei-hai-wei... but if you simply have to stay at home in the hot weather, there are many worse places than Hong Kong!

THEN TO SHEK-O

This time to Sheko. Strictly divided into two camps.

1. Island Bay, where tents are erected by villagers with an eye to the main chance. Calm water, Chinese, Gramophones and Picnics.

2. Big Wave Bay. As the name suggests, the bay has big waves. It is also by far the best bay in Hong Kong for those who like their bathing on the energetic side. There is surfing on their waves for those who bring their own boards. The Sheko inhabitants not unnaturally regard it as rather private property.

I had a third beer with a hospitable soul and passed on.

Driving through to Causeway Bay, past the Chinese Bathing Club, I was impelled to wonder how anyone thought they were going to accommodate all that mass of people, all enjoying

KING OTTO OF AUSTRIA?

Idea "Carefully Mooted" In Italy

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 12, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, August 12.
The idea of Archduke Otto von Hapsburg becoming king of Austria is mooted carefully here. Prince Starhemberg, head of the Heimwehr, had a prolonged discussion with Il Duce and although no statement was issued, indications are that it is probable that the Italian Legation in Austria and the Austrian Legation in Italy will be raised to the standard of Embassies.
From an official source, it is learned that a national monument will be erected to the memory of the late Austrian Chancellor, Dr. Dollfuss, in the capital. The expenses, it is learned, will be met by a public subscription.

AUSTRIA'S INDEPENDENCE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 12, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, Aug. 12.
The question of Austria's independence is still widely discussed, both in political and domestic quarters and the latest information gleaned from the "official discussions" is to the effect that both Italy and Austria are determined in maintaining that independence.

It is understood that 50,000 troops are concentrated near the frontier waiting for the arrival of von Papen in Vienna before taking any action in conjunction with Prince von Starhemberg.

A TWO-SIDED DECLARATION

Vienna, August 11.
A strikingly two-sided declaration on the question of the Hapsburg restoration was given by Prince Starhemberg at a Press Conference called here to announce the new measures to be taken for the safety of the state.

The Heimwehr leader and vice-chancellor characterised the restoration as "no question of the moment even though the majority of the Austrian population are in favour of the Hapsburg return, this is not purely an Austrian matter, he said and might receive opposition from neighbouring states."

Matrimonial considerations are reported to be taking place by the Archduke Otto von Hapsburg, according to the paper "Ekotabladet" which in a Stockholm despatch declares that Otto is looking for a suitable spouse. The Royal lover, so it is reported, will meet a beautiful Swedish princess at Grid in Sweden.

It is even rumoured that the Archduke is engaged already to the fair princess but confirmation is still lacking.

POLISH MINERS LEAVE

Expelled From France

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 12, 4.50 a.m.)

Paris, August 11.
The eighty Polish coal miners expelled by the French Government for having participated in a strike in the Escarpelle mines in the North of France, left for their native land in a special train on Saturday accompanied by their comrades and members of the families. The possibility of a last-minute demonstration was ruled out by the strong battalions of police who effectively mingled with the crowd at the station platform. The exodus numbered many who were not included in the expulsion orders.

According to the "Paris Midi," the administration of the Escarpelle mines has granted all the discharged miners, 300 francs apiece despite the lack of legal claim for damages and provided free transportation in a special train to their homes in Poland.

Paris, August 12.
The second dangerous bomb to be placed in the Paris tube system within a fortnight was discovered on the heavily travelled steps of Censier Daubenton Station on Saturday. The railway officials, well warned by last week's explosion which terribly mangled a fellow-worker who unwrapped the package found on the underground platform, informed the police on the discovery of a suspiciously heavy object wrapped in a newspaper. After scientifically putting the bomb out of commission, the police unbound the package and found it contained a loaded shell of 74 centimetre calibre. No arrests have yet been made.

STORK BRINGS TROUBLE

Transmission Cut Off At Warsaw Radio Station

Warsaw, Aug. 11.
A stork brought a new kind of trouble here on Saturday when the careless arrival of one of the famous birds created havoc in the Warsaw radio station, cutting off all transmission for several hours. After a short circuit, the 35,000 volt powerline sent a lightning clap crashing through the aerial and disabled the sending station. The operators dashed to the roof and discovered a stork lying motionless, badly singed on the roof. The unfortunate bird in attempting to alight had down between two high tension wires, touching both simultaneously with its thrashing wings. Two hours strenuous repair work sufficed to put the dislocation going again but the stork was beyond aid.

CERTIFICATES FOR SILVER

U. S. Treasury Statement

Washington Aug. 11.
The United States Treasury has announced that certificates are being printed against silver held in the General Fund on the basis of the full monetary value of $1.29 per ounce.

Approximately 82,000,000 ounces, costing about $46,000,000 are affected by the programme.
A formal statement added that the face value of the certificates issued, against them will be approximately $80,000,000, instead of to the value of the cost price of the metal.

Silver certificates will also be issued against metal acquired under the Silver Purchase Act, including nationalisation, at the full $1.29 per ounce, although at present they are issued only to the amount equal to the cost of the metal.

STARHEMBERG IN ITALY

Closeted In A Tent

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 12, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, August 12.
Signor Mussolini to-day inspected two hundred inmates of the Austrian Youth organisation who are camping at the Ostia Lido. Prince von Starhemberg who accompanied Il Duce, delivered an address stressing once again Austria's firm desire to maintain their independence at any cost. He eulogised Italy and Il Duce.

Signor Mussolini, Swiss, Italian Under-Secretary of State and Prince von Starhemberg then withdrew to a tent where they remained closeted for over an hour. Official Italian circles while admitting that Prince von Starhemberg's visit is not exactly of a private nature, stress that on the other hand there is no political significance attached to the Prince's visit. The Austrian Chancellor's forthcoming visit is unaffected thereby.

SURPRISE AIR DASH

Rome, August 12.
Signor Mussolini and Prince Starhemberg conferred for over an hour in a tent at the Ostia Lido but no indication was given as to the purpose of the meeting though it is believed that they discussed the security of Austria with particular reference to the decision to make the Heimwehr, of which Prince Starhemberg is the leader, into the Internal Security Police. Several Heimwehr officers were present at the discussion.

Prince Starhemberg's surprise air dash from Vienna only a few hours after Dr. Schuschnigg had returned to Vienna from Budapest caused much speculation.

These two visits and the coming visit of Dr. Schuschnigg to Rome indicates that there is considerable diplomatic activity on the part of the new Austrian Government.

Prince Starhemberg is living in a tent for two or three days with two hundred boys of the Austrian Youth Organisation who are camping at the Ostia Lido.

SWEDISH PRESS COMMENT

German Protest

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, August 12, 7.30 p.m.)

Stockholm, August 12.
The well-known Swedish newspaper, "Aftonbladet" in an article headed, "The German Protest" declares that the strong protest the German Legation transmitted to the Swedish Government on the occasion of an insult to members of the German Government by the Swedish Press, is a regrettable affair not devoid of gravity. The paper goes on to say that one cannot conceal the fact that relations between Germany and Sweden threaten to become seriously disturbed, and that the blame for this is attached to the tactless section of the Swedish papers, namely those banned by the German Government.

It is unfortunately true that Swedish public opinion is not in agreement with these papers. The avowedly hostile spirit manifested by these papers is not only directed against the leadership of the German Reich, but also against Germany, as such direct assertion of dishonourable atrocities are said to have been committed by the German leaders.

Systematic insinuations of every political act of Germany far transgress the bounds of natural opposition of the democratic conception, vis-a-vis alien dictatorship, and far exceeds the borders of Swedish politics. As far as this agitation is having effect, Swedish people must pay for it for these papers will not be able to pay for it.

It is quite obvious that these papers by their attitude do not serve the Swedish interests and that they have no Swedish commission for such a policy.

AQUATICS

Chinese Journalists' Sports

The Swimming contest between Chinese journalists of Hong Kong, Canton and Macao, which concluded yesterday evening at the Chung Sing Benevolent Society's Bathing Shed at West Point, proved a huge success.

Entries were numerous and the races were by no means dull although it must be said that Hong Kong's numerous victories rather overshadowed the efforts of those from Canton and Macao.

Chan Chun Man of the "Wah Kiu Yat Po" was the outstanding swimmer annexing the majority of events, while he was placed second in several others.

On Saturday night he won the 400 and 1,500 Metres Free Style events while yesterday he took first places in the 100 metres Breast Stroke, the 200 metres Breast Stroke, the 1,000 metres Free Style and Throwing the Water-Polo Ball.

The individual championship went to Chan Chun Man of the "Wah Kiu Yat Po," who annexed nine first places and one second place to aggregate 48 points, a record individual performance in the annals of swimming in South China.

Chan Chun Man's performance is all the more noteworthy in that he had to race against fresh men in nearly all the races and his performance in taking first place against this handicap makes his display a brilliant one.

Hong Kong Journalists topped the list with 107 points against Canton's 28 while Macao journalists were unplaced although their swimmers did their best.

The harbour races took the swimmers in almost a complete circle as the strong current running between Green Island and the Chung Sing Bathing Shed was unbeatable and cross-harbour swimmers had to be content with being helped a little by the current, which however, beat some of the men who were compelled to give in.

A water-polo match between two selected teams brought the gala to a most successful conclusion and the organisers are to be congratulated on a magnificent programme.

Judging on this first attempt, prospects for an annual competition of this kind looks very bright. Results follow:—(Newspapers in brackets).

EMPIRE LAWN BOWLS

England Wins Two Championships

The lawn bowls contests which formed part of the British Empire Games programme were brought to a conclusion on Saturday after many days of friendly rivalry between representatives from all parts of the Dominions.

Hong Kong came into prominence in the Pairs, taking third place in the final standings—striking tribute to the abilities of the Colony representatives. F. L. Rappley and H. G. Cooper. In the Rinks the Colony had to take the last position after winning only two games. A. Hyde-Lay won four Singles games for Hong Kong, and in consequence placed the Colony above New Zealand, whose representative failed to record a victory.

England won the Pairs and Rinks championships, while Scotland took the Singles honours.

The final standings as cabled by Reuter were:—

Singles: Fts.

Scotland	18
Canada	14
South Africa	14
England	10
Wales	10
Ireland	6
Rhodesia	6
Hong Kong	4
New Zealand	0
Canada took second place on shots average.

Pairs:

England	16
Canada	12
Hong Kong	10
Wales	10
Ireland	10
Scotland	6
Rhodesia	5
South Africa	4
Australia	1

Rinks:

England	16
Ireland	16
Scotland	12
South Africa	12
New Zealand	8
Canada	8
Rhodesia	8
Australia	6
Wales	5
Hong Kong	2

England won on shots average, while Scotland were placed third on shots average.

H.G. Lange Causes Surprise In Men's 50 Yards

H. Lange, runner-up in last year's Y.M.C.A. Men's 100 Yards Championship and holder of the 220 title, on Saturday night won the Men's 50 Yards Championship in a very close race in 28 seconds, the favourite R. B. Wood being placed second while G. H. Fowler and R. Goldman were third and fourth.

Mrs. A. C. Schreuder had an easy victory in the Ladies' 50 Yards Championship in the absence of Mrs. Mead, who has just joined the "Y" Ladies Swimming Section. A thrilling duel for second place in the Ladies race between Miss J. Weller and Miss A. Fowler provided the bit of the race. Mrs. Schreuder's time of 33 1/5 seconds was very poor.

An innovation in holding 50 Yards handicap races for Boys and Girls of the Central British School was most successful, and some very good performances were recorded.

Victor Bond, who won the Boys' race returned the excellent time of 30 4/5 seconds while Miss Featherstonhaugh winner of the girls' race, who started from scratch, clocked 43 1/5 seconds.

The standard of swimming in these two events was very high, and there were indications of coming champions both among the boys and girls.

Thrilling Tussle

The Men's 50 Yards championship was fought out every inch of the distance. R. Goldman who shot well away at the start had a slight lead at the turn and was leading the field up to within about five yards of the finish when he cracked up and allowed the three others to pass him.

Lange who eventually won the race did so as the result of a spurt which carried him past Wood and Fowler, the latter beating Goldman by a touch for third place. So close was the race that only half a second separated the four swimmers.

Mrs. W. Schreuder enjoyed a comfortable win in the Ladies 50 Yards Championship and got home well ahead of Miss Weller and Miss Fowler, who provided a thrilling tussle for second place. Miss Fowler cracking up within a few feet of the finish.

The Men's and Ladies 50 Yards Aggregate handicap races also provided some good swimming, particularly in the Ladies event, when Mrs. Schreuder caught up with Miss Weller and Miss Fowler to snatch second place from Miss J. Wilson.

In the Men's 60 Yards Aggregate, F. J. Anslow won the first heat in 29 2/5 seconds against S. Fowler and

G. Fowler, while R. Goldman who started from scratch was unplaced.

In the three-legged race all three of the pairs were disqualified for losing their "bonds" although this event caused much amusement.

The water-polo game five-a-side was a rough and tumble affair, tackling on both sides being very hard and determined.

Schreuder's team won by two goals to 1 against Kerr's team, the former scoring both goals while H.G. Lange replied for the losers.

After the gala dancing to the strains of Mr. Stott's band was indulged in until midnight.

Results were as follow:—

BOWLING GREEN'S OFF DAY

SENIOR AND JUNIOR TEAMS LOSE TO POLICE R. C.

Indians Now In Strong Position

The double victory of the Police R. C. over the Kowloon Bowling Green Club was the feature of the week-end league lawn bowls.

By their defeat, the Bowling Green are now only two points ahead of Craighower, but the latter has a game in hand. The destiny of the first division honours is therefore more open at present than it has been since Craighower's initial defeat.

In the second division, the Indians are again sitting pretty, thanks to the Bowling Green's defeat. The Police now share second place with the K.B.G.C., both being two points behind I.R.C., who in addition, have the advantage of one game in hand.

Dublin, August 12.

A large number of people, including many officials, attended the International Riding Tournament in which seven nations participated. They were Sweden, Norway, France, Great Britain, Germany, Switzerland and Ireland.

Some excellent sport was provided and so closely were the different "events" fought out that it was difficult to pick the winners. The judges eventually announced that the "Aga Khan Cup" was won by Germany.—Transocean Kuo Min.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TITLE OF GERMANY

Hamburg, August 12.
Mrs. Hilde Sperling, formerly Miss Hilde Krawinkel, won the women's tennis championship of Germany here on Saturday by beating Miss Cilly Aussem in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3 in the final. Since the winner has become a Danish subject by her recent marriage, it thus comes about that the German player takes the German title to Denmark.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Scoreless Day For The "Indians"

New York, Aug. 11.

Home runs by the "Babe" and Lazzeri proved of no avail to the New York Yankees who were overshadowed by an odd run in their clash with Boston to-day.

A home run by Jimmy Fox for Philadelphia Athletics against Washington Senators. The second game was called off owing to rain.

Auker, pitching for Detroit, shut out the Cleveland Indians Indians over nine innings while his side collected seven runs.

Cincinnati Reds won the first game of their double header in the National League, but were severely "trounced" by Pittsburgh Pirates in the second game.

New York Giants defeated the Boston Braves by a 7 to 4 tally, while St. Louis Cardinals scored 6 to 4 against Chicago Cubs.

The following were the results:—

NEWS FROM CHINA

CHINA NEWS IN BRIEF

On Saturday there passed through Hong Kong by the Conte Verde Mr. Li Shih Tsang, of the Nanking Government. He has been appointed to take charge of the Chinese section of the League of Nations Library for the purposes of studying civilisation. In Septem- ber it is intended to hold an ex- hibition, at which Mr. Li must be present. There are about three hundred delegates to this library from all countries, and the library has a very fine collection of books in all languages for those who wish to study this subject. China's contribution consists of books on her literature and civilisation.

Mr. Wu Shai Yik, the Chinese minister to Switzerland was also returning to his post, with his wife and daughters. This was his first return to China for some years, and he found things greatly improved.

Mr. Chiu Cho Kong, who is one of the Chinese delegates to the League of Nations Road Conference, to be opened at Munich on September 3, was also a passenger on the same vessel. He said that the other members had already departed for Europe. Other prominent Chinese passengers were Mr. Li Min Lun, Chinese Minister to Czechoslovakia and his wife and the Mayor of Canton's young brother going abroad to study.—Nam Wah Yat Po.

Nanking, Aug. 2.
The National Economic Council at Nanking is reported to have completed preparations for the organization of four committees on Public Health, River Conservancy, Education, and Highways respectively. Personnel of the committees have already been chosen and they will be formally established after the return of Dr. T. V. Soong, leading member of the Council, who is vacationing at Tsingtao. (Chekiat Agency)

Tsingtao, Aug. 2.
Dr. W. W. Yen, Chinese Ambassador to the U. S. S. R., who is now summering at Tsingtao, will leave here for Shanghai on the 9th inst., whence he will proceed to Nanking to see the Government leaders and confer with them on the Sino-Russian relations.

Drs. Tsai Yuen-pei, Chu Chia-hua, Messrs. Wang Hsiao-lai and T. A. Soong arrived from Shanghai to-day to attend the annual meeting of the Sino-British Boxer Indemnity Refund Committee, which is scheduled to be held here on the 4th. (Chekiat Agency)

Shanghai, Aug. 2.
According to an urgent dispatch received here to-day, martial law was suddenly declared at Foochow this morning. Reasons for this extraordinary measure are unknown. (Chekiat Agency)

Nanking, Aug. 2.
Dr. C. T. Wang, formerly Minister of Foreign Affairs, arrived at Nanking from Shanghai to-day. Dr. Wang declared that he came here to attend the meeting of the board of directors of the National Athletic Association. He denied categorically that he was proceeding to North China on mission. Shanghai, Aug. 2.
Interviewed upon his arrival at Shanghai this morning from Nanking, Dr. H. H. Kung, Minister of Finance, declared that General Huang Fu would return to North China in the next few days, but before proceeding to Peiping, he would most probably pay a brief visit to Kiangsi to see General Chiang Kai Shek, President of the Military Affairs Commission. On his way to Kiangsi, General Huang might also stop at Nanking, where he would confer with President Wang Ching Wei on affairs in North China.

Referring to the problems in the Luantung Area, the Finance Minister said that if the Chinese people work energetically they could be sure of attaining satisfactory result. Otherwise, if they merely indulged in misapprehensions and doubts and remained inactive, he added, nothing would ever be accomplished.

Dr. Kung announced that he would leave for Kiangsi on Monday next week. However, he said, it had not been decided whether he would proceed there direct from Shanghai or from Nanking in the company of President Wang Ching Wei. He further stated that there would be no conference after his arrival in Kiangsi, but of course private discussion on affairs of the country would be held among the officials assembling there.—Chekiat Agency.

Shanghai, Aug. 11.
Dr. H. H. Kung left for Kuling this morning by air.
Mr. Tang Yu Jen denies that an important conference is proceeding at Kuling, declaring that the leaders are merely gathered for a general and informal exchange of views.

Whether Huang Fu will withdraw his resignation is not yet definite, although he will probably do so.
Dr. W. W. Yen has not yet decided when he will return to Moscow, owing to reasons of health.—Reuter.

SINGING FESTIVAL BAN

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Saarbruecken, Aug. 12. The ban on the singing festival which was to take place here in September has now been officially confirmed by the League authorities, the reason given being that the assembling of a vast crowd of visitors here is "not opportune in view of the forthcoming peace conference."

The organizing committee, however, has decided to hold the singing festival at the neighbouring Hetchgerman city, Trier.

HOME SHIPPING

Yachts Wrecked By The Gale

London, Aug. 11. The s.s. Clacton Queen, the pleasure steamer which was reported overdue last night, arrived at Clacton at daybreak to-day. It appears that the ship developed mechanical trouble and was compelled to anchor seven miles from Clacton, where anxious relatives waited all night at the pier-head.

Boisterous weather caused a number of minor shipping casualties. Two yachts were wrecked off the Suffolk Coast, and their crews were rescued by the Alderburgh lifeboat.

Shipping in the English Channel was also buffeted by heavy seas. Cowes week ended in torrential rain. A number of yachts were dismayed by the gale and a big yacht had to be abandoned. Six dinghies, participating in the regatta capsized and the crews were rescued from The Solent.

BLOW TO GERMANS IN LITHUANIA

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Riga, Aug. 12. The German culture and German minority in Lithuania suffered a severe blow on Saturday in the Government decision to reduce the foreign languages instruction in the nation's elementary schools to a single course, simultaneously changing the main foreign language taught in schools from German to English.

The Minister of Education, Adamovitch, in announcing the cabinet's decision, explained the action as being taken "to gain freedom from one-sided influence of the German culture."

The measure is one more indication of the anti-German orientation of the recent Lithuanian policy, which is most strikingly evident by the course followed in the Memel territory.

GERMAN FRONT PROTEST TO SAAR COMMITTEE

About Confiscated Records

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Saarbruecken, Aug. 12. The leader of the German Front organisation, Prothbe, formally protested on Saturday to the executive committee of the Saar Commission against the refusal of President Knox to restore the confiscated records of the organisation in accord with the injunction issued by the examining magistrate. The protests point out that the ground given for the seizure of the documents—preparation measures to preserve public order—has been declared as baseless.

SCOTTISH TEXTILE ACTIVITY

(Special Air Mail Service)

Edinburgh, July 25.

A big effort is to be made to widen the market for Scottish textile products at next year's British Industries Fair, writes a correspondent. I was informed to-day that the National Association of Scottish Woollen Manufacturers has taken a section of stands occupying 3,000 square feet for the 1935 Fair. This is to form the central portion of a great hall devoted entirely to the presentation of the national woollen products and the Scottish series of stands will constitute a hall of their own under the roof of the main building. It is anticipated that these stands will prove particularly attractive to foreign buyers, for never before have they had an opportunity to inspect such a complete range of Scottish woollen goods as will be set before them. Scotland is also to be represented in the knitwear, hosiery, and linen sections of a show which promises to be of great proportions as this year's booking are 50 per cent advanced on the previous occasion.

SANTARY BOARD MEETING

Orders Of The Day

The business to be discussed at tomorrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board is:—

1. The Medical Officer of Health, pursuant to notice, will move:—
"That the Board is of the opinion that any floor in a tenement house as defined by Ordinance 1 of 1903 which has not thereon one room or closet partitioned off from the remainder of the floor and designed to the satisfaction of the Board to contain a privy or urinal, shall be deemed to have insufficient latrine accommodation under Section 185 of the Ordinance. In such cases the Medical Officer of Health is hereby authorised to give the required notice on behalf of the Board for the provision of such latrine accommodation as he may deem adequate."
2. Minute by the President relative to the washing of pavements and sidewalks in the more densely populated areas in Hong Kong and Kowloon.
3. Minute by the President relative to the conservancy contract for Aberdeen, Apichau and Pokfulam.
4. Minute by the President relative to the conservancy contract for Stanley and Taitam.
5. Application for an eating house licence at No. 14, Percival Street, ground floor.
6. Application for the registration of No. 8, Jordan Road, ground floor, as a dairy.

SHANGHAI MARKET COMMENT

When the week under review opened last Tuesday there was not much more activity going on in the rubber section of the Shanghai Stock Market owing to the absence of brokers. On the general market a cheap lot of 2,000 explorations was done at 4.95 for August. Holiday sentiment continued to prevail over the next day, only two transactions were recorded in the general market during the half-day session: 80 common shares of Cal-beck changed hands at 2.50 cash and 500 EWOS were done at 11 cash. The demand for City Loan, 1934 continued with not a great deal offering. 500 Shanghai Land shares were placed at 24 cash. Transactions in rubber stocks on Thursday were dominated by professional operators who were only concerned in selecting New City Loan, 1934 at 100 and also for Central Properties 5 1/2 at 100.50. Shanghai Loan shares were placed at 6.55 August. A small lot of British American Tobacco shares was done at 89 cash. Following better news from Singapore the rubber group of the Shanghai Shares Market firmed up on the next day and towards the close sellers were asking full rates. The rest of the list was inactive. While the general market was neglected on Saturday better news from London and New York regarding the price of raw material enabled the rubber market to register a modest rise.

The first week of August on the Chinese Government Bond Market was marked by unsteady trading which at times actually became weakness and as a result only small gains were registered despite a strong opening and a strong close. The downward trend was caused by reports of the red menace in Fokien. However, the situation was not serious enough to result in panic conditions. Hence, with the easing of the tension on the Fokien front the market stiffened again to advance by big fractions.

STONE-AGE RELIC

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, July 25.

The sculptured female torso of the older Stone Age which Mr. Ludovic Mann unearthed from a gravel-bed in the Kelvin Valley is on exhibition here at present and has aroused much interest in scientific circles. To-day Mr. Mann had a voluminous correspondence regarding his discovery, including many inquiries from museums in this country and abroad. He informs me, however, that he is much inclined to keep this remarkable and unique relic in the Kelvingrove Museum, Glasgow, alongside the various stone measuring gauges and the carved smoothing tool made from the thigh bone of a rhinoceros, which were secured from the same gravel deposits. Mr. Mann's exhibition here of works of art of the older Stone Age is attracting many visitors, and since the announcement of his latest discovery he has had to answer many queries about the Kirkintilloch figurine.

SCOTSMAN STARTS BIG FLIGHT

Kent To Canada By The Arctic

(Special Air Mail Service)

Edinburgh, July 25.

Mr. John Grierson, the Scottish airman, took off in his seaplane from Rochester, Kent, early yesterday on the first hop of his flight along the Arctic route to Ottawa.

Only a few people were at the waterfront when Mr. Grierson climbed into the cockpit of his seaplane, which has been fitted with floats, and took off from the water.

Mr. Grierson is known among flyers as an all-weather pilot. He is carrying a special wireless set, hoped to make his first hop to Londonderry yesterday, and will carry on by way of Greenland and Hudson Bay to Ottawa.

World Flight Begun.
He has already made many spectacular long-distance flights. Early this year he flew 2,000 miles to demonstrate the use of his wireless set.

Mr. Grierson was married in April this year, and his wife is a flying enthusiast.

Mr. R. N. Chawla, the Indian airman who three years ago obtained the distinction of being the first Indian to fly from India to Britain, left Karachi yesterday in a Puss Moth with the intention of flying round the world.
